Shows Behind-The-Scenes Secret Training For Federal Law Enforcement Agents At Undisclosed Government Training Facility

Do NOT go to the website below unless you're willing to deal with the unvarnished truth about what you MUST do if your life's actually on the line. Otherwise it's just a complete waste of your time.

Now here's the thing you should know: YouTube only reluctantly put the video up. And it's still there. But there's no guarantee.

The video is in 3 parts. You want to watch all three.

You see the problem as soon as you walk in. It hangs right there on the wall of the Federal Training facility.

They call it Force Continuum... and it defines precisely how US Federal Agents must deal with escalating violence.

And on the surface it seems fine.

But where things go to hell, where surprisingly the Force Continuum is woefully inadequate, is when these Agents must deal with some non-compliant asshole or worse... someone bent on killing them.

And that's why we were called in.

Not to teach defensive tactics or new SOPs (standard op procedures) or another way to cuff a guy. They know all that stuff.

No, the reason we got asked (and why people come from around the globe to see us) is because we're the only people who teach the ONE thing the lawyers and top brass there refused to address...

How To Survive An Actual Life-or-Death Confrontation!

Their concerns are more about being sued than an Agent's life. Yet every cop, military guy & federal officer knows when it's kill-or-be-killed, defensive tactics are woefully inadequate.

It was shocking to realize how totally unprepared these Agents & Federal officers are to handle terrorists, drug dealers and murderers... the very slime you and I are counting on them MOST to protect us from!

It's why we cut through the BS and deal ONLY with what others never talk about... the need to gouge an eye, crush a windpipe, break an eardrum, snap a knee joint, even kill... if that's what it takes to guarantee you walk away alive.

Yes, defensive tactics, combat sports and martial arts do work... just NOT on the people you really need to worry about. (That's why we showed these Agents how to take their existing training and use it to destroy the REAL threat!)

Here's the problem: When we asked the Agents to point out on their escalating force continuum chart exactly where a terrorist or some other ruthless, asocial thug fit in...

Every One Got It Wrong!

Some put him near level 5, the highest alert. Others even further out on the continuum.

But each was shocked at our answer (and it's right there on video for you to see).

Because this guy... the one they (and the rest of us) most need to worry about... is NOT even on their chart!

For the true asocial misfits of the world, there is NO CONTINUUM; no escalation.

They go straight from seemingly social... to KILLING... in a heartbeat!

So why should you give a damn?

Because if these highly-trained Federal Agents didn't get it... the odds are you won't either!

People believe criminals think like us.

They don't.

And just like those Agents, most people go around in a fog believing some self-defense course or their 14 years of combat sport training or martial arts has got them covered.

But the truth is... it doesn't. And you realize you're no better off than those Federal Agents.

Just as their Force Continuum had them feeling secure (yet left them dangerously exposed), your own moral code and complete lack of training for a brutal life-or-death attack gives you the same false sense of security.

Training That Opened Their Eyes... As It Will Yours.

These Agents were stunned at what they didn't know. Yet they were more blown away by how fast and easy it was for them to plug ALL the gaps in their training. And do it WITHOUT the liability issues everyone so greatly feared.

It's why we called the course...

Justified Lethal Force!

And now for the first time these on-line videos take you directly inside an undisclosed US Government training center. You'll see EXACTLY what we showed these Federal Agents they must do if they were to survive against someone out to seriously injure or kill them.

And after reading this far you probably realize it's the same stuff that'll keep you alive in an actual life-or-death confrontation.

It's the only time anyone's been allowed to actually release footage of a live training session shot inside a Federal Training center.

But that's nothing new for us. We shot similar footage for the SEALs in the late 80's as this training swept through the spec op community.

We were showing people what "reality fighting" was long before the term even existed.

Now, one word of caution: what you'll see on the videos is NOT for typical anti-social violence (the bar brawl sort of thing). Others are happy to show you how to beat up or even seriously injure the local bully or some other perceived threat. But don't be fooled. It's a ticket to disaster! This material is ONLY of value when your life's TRULY on the line.

If you understand this and still wish to proceed, then go to this website and check out the video now while it's still up...
